2. Political and Humanitarian Repercussions:

This report documents a massacre carried out by Israeli aircraft that targeted a camp for displaced people in Al-Mawasi, Khan Yunis area of southern Gaza, resulting in over 60 casualties. The attack involved the use of three American-made MK-84 bombs, which struck the tents at night, burying around 20 tents along with their occupants under rubble.

This incident occurred in a region designated as "humanitarian," highlighting the troubling reality that international inaction and ongoing U.S. support for Israeli actions embolden the occupation forces to perpetrate further atrocities.

In addition, the Israeli occupation's strategy of targeting schools serving as shelters for displaced individuals has intensified, leading to hundreds of deaths and injuries. From the beginning of August to September 8, 2024, the occupation forces bombed 16 schools—15 of which were located in the northern Gaza Valley—resulting in the deaths of 217 Palestinians, including women and children, amid the ongoing genocide.

The report also notes a significant escalation in attacks by the occupation forces and settlers, marked by daily raids on Palestinian residential areas, particularly in Nablus, Jenin, and Tulkarm. These raids involved widespread arrests and destruction of both public and private property. The occupation army employed airstrikes on buildings, causing numerous fatalities and injuries. During this period, Israeli settlements experienced more than 2,000 attacks, which included land confiscation and the displacement of Palestinian families.
